

BULLETINS FROM SEAT OF WAR TODAY.

Troops and Siege Guns Landed Near Santiago.

Report From Dewey--Terror Reported Sunk by the Oregon--Sampson Wants Hobson.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—It is learned authoritatively that the President has decided not to appoint Lew Wallace Major-General, on account of his age—71 years.

WASHINGTON, June 6, 12:30.—Apportionment of troops under new call will be completed today. Understood it will prove one regiment for California beside men to fill the first regiment. Officers of all eastern regiments now in California are ordered to fill ranks taking California men if they desire.

CAPE HAYTIEN, June 6.—At 3 this morning strong cannonading was heard from direction of Aguadores a little east of Moro Castle, which defends eastern entrance to Santiago harbor. Quarter hour later the cannonading increased greatly, evidently proceeding from guns of large calibre.

1:30.—Advices from Santiago say bombardment of fortifications there continues.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The remains of Captain Gridley, of the Manila expedition, will be cremated at Yokohama, on request of Mrs. Gridley.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Owing to reports that Centennial is unseaworthy, Secretary Meikeljohn has ordered naval constructors to make examination at once and if she is unfit to cancel charter.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Auxiliary cruiser has reached Key West from Havana blockade and reports no action from shore batteries, although the fleet ran close enough in to see the men at the guns.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The Democratic members of the House are preparing to antagonize the Hawaiian annexation resolution as contrary to the proper principles of public policy.

PORT AU PRINCE, June 6.—No war news has reached here up to 9 a. m. today.

NEW YORK, June 6.—A dispatch from Key West says: Dispatches from the Havana blockade report that three Spanish gunboats beside the Alfonso XII are yet in Havana harbor, and that within ten days additional artillery has been brought from the shore and mounted upon the Alfonso.

MADRID, June 6.—A dispatch from Santiago says, Americans bombarded that place forty-five minutes Saturday night without results.

CAPE HAYTIEN, June 6.—American troops landed at Aguadores, five miles from Santiago harbor, early this morning, under cover of Sampson, whose guns silenced the Spanish batteries there. The heaviest were used and a general engagement is imminent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—It is said in well informed circles that American troops are already in Cuba in force and many are on the way to Porto Rico. An aggressive campaign will be pushed in the hope of speedy termination of the war.

Navy officers discredit report that troops landed near Santiago.

MOLE ST. NICHOLAS, June 6. The St. Louis arrived this morning with dispatches to the effect that 5000 troops landed successfully at West Santiago Saturday; also a number of heavy siege guns were taken ashore on pontoons.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The Navy Department says that Admiral Dewey reports that the insurgents have won several victories over the Spanish forces in Cavite province, and have taken fifty officers and 1800 men prisoners.

COMMODORE DEWEY.

KINGSTON, June 6.—News has reached here that 5000 American troops landed at Punta Cabrera, near Santiago, and formed junction with Garcia's force of 3000. Move on Santiago will be made immediately. Landing was made with little difficulty and under cover of shelling by gunboat.

NEW YORK, June 6.—A dispatch from Madrid says: The Herald prints a story that part of the Cape Verde fleet has gone to the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—At 11:15 a. m. the Navy Department had no information of a battle off Cape Haytien resulting in the loss of the Spanish steamer Terror and officials do not believe the story.

LONDON, June 6.—Financial circles already treat Spain as bankrupt. Silver brokers refuse to sell bullion to her unless gold in payment is deposited.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The Navy Department reports that Sampson is conducting negotiations for the exchange of Navy Constructor Hobson and party for Spanish prisoners held in this country.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—12:45 p. m.—Official confirmation of the Oregon sinking the Terror is lacking. Many officials believe it possible and that the Oregon is on the way to San Juan to begin the bombardment.

THE OREGON.

Saturday Evening's Blaze.

The beautiful home of Hon. Howard E. Wright, 2208 Atherton street, was materially damaged by fire on Saturday evening, as the Gazette went to press. Mr. Wright was using the gas stove in renovating and pressing articles of his wardrobe intended for service during his prospective trip to Lake Tahoe, when a slight breeze blew the curtains into the flames and immediately the room was enveloped in a mass of flame and smoke. By prompt work and cool temper the flames were kept within the confines of the room where it originated, but was not extinguished until considerable damage was done, and the beautiful eolian grand and famous oil portraits and much furniture were consumed. Mr. Wright, by the quick use of the hose succeeded in extinguishing the fire before it spread to the remainder of the house. Besides the discomfort of having the conveniences of home interrupted for a season the fixtures and commodities of the room were consumed, and the wreck of Saturday evening leaves the traces of destruction and demolition.

TOPICS DISCUSSED IN BERKELEY PULPITS.

A Wealth of Wisdom and Spiritual Food.

The National War Situation is Made the Object of Numerous Theological Treatises.

NORTH BERKELEY CONGREGATIONAL.

Rev. Mr. Britt, lately from Wisconsin, preached a very interesting and practical sermon upon the words in the nineteenth and twentieth verses of the seventieth chapter of Matthew. The central thought of the discussion was faith. There is nothing more firmly fixed and settled than the idea of the supremacy of mind over matter. The application of faith to everyday affairs does not preclude the calling of steam, or any of the mechanical appliances that we commonly use, to our aid to remove our mountains. What is faith? It is belief—belief, enforced by will, is the source of the creative power of both God and man. How does this power work in our lives? By beginning to believe and to do. The architect of Westminster Abbey did not begin by building cathedrals; the engineer of the St. Gotthard tunnel, who ran so true a line through that great mountains that the drills met at the center, did not begin by piercing the heart of majestic mountains. He began by faithfully studying simple arithmetic, and so advancing step by step by faithful work. A man who is doing faithful work is putting himself into an attitude which can reveal himself to that soul. It is a great thing to harness the forces of nature, but it is a much greater thing to take hold of the forces of God for the healing of the world.

The great work of Christ was to give healing to the world. The reason why the church fails to do all that it might is lack of faith. All the power of God is at our disposal; it is the office of faith to lay hold of that power and utilize it. We little dream of our tremendous possibilities, and we never will so long as we indulge self and neglect duty. If we wish power let us begin to do the commonest duty as well as possible; the power will increase. "What Plato has thought all men may think," the life that any saint has lived—all men may live. A church should be like the ideal family, the center of everything high and holy. A church in which all the members were faithful, loyal and consecrated would evangelize any community, and no one building would be large enough to contain the crowds drawn thither by the power of God exemplified in faithful lives.

WEST BERKELEY PRESBYTERIAN.

Morning, June 5th.—The subject of the sermon was "Hungering and Thirsting." Christ should be all and in all to the Christian. He is the bread that came down from heaven. Many are lacking in spiritual life. Many are only nominally Christian. They have a force in the church and no influence in the world for Christ. In Cuba there are many hungering for bread—not only for physical but spiritual life. Reference was made to the grand work of Alberto Jose Diaz, who gathered a large church of those hungering and thirsting after righteousness. We get life through the Spirit of God. Our navy, with all her noble ships, fully equipped with the latest improved guns, would be utterly powerless to destroy the Spanish fleet were there no spark to ignite the charge. So the church is powerless in the warfare against evil without the fire of the spirit of God.

Evening.—The subject was "The Wise Fool." Luke xii:16-21. The man in the parable was what the world calls wise, but God called him a fool. He was wise in being a prosperous, wealthy farmer, careful in his investment and successful in his work. It is not money, but the love of money that is the root of all evil. But the man was a fool in not taking God into account. We owe all to Him. But selfishness hides Him from our view. The man was rich before he had the big crop. He should have devoted the excess to good works.

"Oh the good we all may do While the days are going by."

On his eightieth birthday Bismarck received from the Emperor a recognition of his services rendered. Some thought it might have come before. Sam Small once said: "I am not worrying about whether we shall know each other in heaven. I want to be recognized here." Some people keep their flowers till their friends are dead. Why not bestow them upon the living to break the weary monotony of life. Post mortem kindnesses do not cheer the burdened spirit. Flowers upon the casket cast no fragrance over the weary days of life. It has been said "an ounce of taffy is worth a pound of epitaphy." The soul is intended for high and noble things. Selfish regard of the things of earth robs the soul. The man in the parable was a fool in not taking into account that he must die. Life is very uncertain. "There is but a step between me and death." Be wise. Don't be a fool.

The Chosen Friends.

Berkeley Lodge No. 12, Order of Chosen Friends, nominated their officers last Friday, June 3d, for the next ensuing term: Those nominated are: Past Councilor, Mr. Joeder; Councilor, Mrs. Katy Brown; Vice Councilor, Mrs. M. D. Bruchman; Instructor, Mrs. M. C. Dean; Secretary, Harry T. Wright; Treasurer, F. Gimbel; Prelate, A. Dean; Marshal, Mrs. A. J. Bohman; Warden, Mrs. M. M. D. Hadlan; Guard, Barney Bruchman, for his eighteenth term; Centra, Mr. Burr; Trustees—F. Burghard, C. Hallen, A. Dean.

A Prompt Response.

The quiet and repose of the Sunday rest of the volunteer fire corps was interrupted about 1:30 p. m. yesterday, when Chief Kenney and his corps of able men were called to the scene of action on Durant avenue near Shattuck, where the property owned by Mrs. Chase was reported on fire. The cause of the fire is attributed to a defective gas-line stove used by a tenant family in the second story. When the department reached the scene of action, a fireman found a small portion of the house in flames, and soon had them under control. The wisdom of the tenants in applying wet blankets and clothing to the flames doubtless averted a disastrous fire, and the activity of the Columbia and Alert companies is commendable in showing such promptitude and preparation for extinguishing the small blaze which might have been more serious. Total loss about $25.

Eminent Photographer.

The well-known portrait painter, Edw. Belle-Oudry, formerly chief operator at Disderi's world renowned gallery on the Boulevard des Italiens, in Paris, intends opening in the Abrahamson building on Thirteenth street a first-class modern photographic studio in the near future.

care to our coffin adds a nail no doubt; And every grin so merry, draws one out. —Dr. Wolcott's "Peter Pindar."

If there be any truth in the foregoing quotation, and we believe it is wholly true, then Zamloch, the greatest of living magicians, has done more good in this city than a host of doctors during the past week. For three nights he has held forth at Morrill Hall to large audiences, and wonder, bewilderment and uproarious merriment held supreme sway during every moment of the performances. "What fools we mortals be" when we cannot believe the things we see with our own eyes and hear with our own ears. And Zamloch made every one of the audience think that their eyes and ears and reasoning powers were at fault. Never for an instant did the intense interest of the audience lag at any of the performances. It is years since Silver City audiences shook their sides with laughter as they did during the past week at Zamloch's entertainments. The Enterprise unreservedly recommends him to the amusement-loving public wherever he may go. Silver City Enterprise.

COUNTRY ABOVE PARTY.

All patriotic citizens, every man who entertains the idea that his country is superior to his party, will agree with the Baltimore News (Democratic) when it declares that "Those Senators who use this emergency as a time either for attempting to force the adoption of their financial notions, or for cutting off the Government's supplies while they pretend to make such an attempt, will be justly overwhelmed by public condemnation. We must give the Government now the money which it needs, and fight out the currency quarrel afterward."

AN EVENTFUL CAREER.

It is painful to learn that the author of the pleasing drama, "Esmeralda," so artistically given by the '98 class of Berkeley High School last week, never experienced, in her home life, that high degree of domestic felicity and fidelity that characterizes the life of the home-loving maid Esmeralda and her aged father.

Not long since, Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, the author of this play, was divorced, and will, from all indications, soon be again wedded. The prospective husband is Stephen Townsend, who has served her as private secretary for some years. It is hoped that the long acquaintance has settled the question of compatibility of temper, so that the wedded bliss of the author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" may not again be wrecked.

A WORTHY INSTITUTION.

Californians may well be proud of the institution here for the benefit of the unfortunate deaf, dumb and blind. The good it is doing in educating and fitting these physically imperfect human beings for practical life is beyond estimation. The work is a noble one; and could all the people see and know of the progress the pupils of this school make, and know of their efficiency as they graduate and enter private life, the institution would never lack for money or friends, or anything else it might need to render it still more effective and proficient in its work. As bright minds are gathered here as elsewhere, and many that shall go out into life after graduation will be able to follow a course that will be an honor to the institution, and shape their own lives whith, but for this institution, would otherwise have been miserable blanks.

An Ungenerous Theory.

"That clerk always comes to the store on holidays," said one member of the firm.

"Yes," replied the man who has no genial impulses, "he is so much in the habit of loitering here that he doesn't feel comfortable anywhere else."

Naval Commander. To give you the information you ask, young man, would be premature, and might cost us two or three battleships.

Correspondent. But, good heavens, if I don't get that information, it may cost me my job!—Chicago Tribune.

AMERICAN FORTITUDE.

The famous entrance to Santiago de Cuba, previously supposed to be impenetrable, has at last yielded to Yankee bravery and ingenuity, and although it cost our Government the loss of one collier and the imprisonment of the gallant crew of the Merrimac, and Lieutenant Hobson the hero who conceived the undertaking. With all classes the decision and alertness of Richmond P. Hobson is the chief theme of conversation, and pulpit and press offer ascriptions of land and gratitude to the man who blocked the channel under the tremendous fire of batteries belching forth death and destruction, and by his foresight and speedy action thwarted the combined efforts of the Spanish land and sea forces. The heroism of Lieutenant Hobson is comparable to that of Admiral Dewey and Captain Cushing, of the late civil conflict, who, under cover of night, sank the ram Albemarle. In every corner of the world the perspicacity and decision of the Yankee naval officer is the topic of conversation and is commended by our friends and foes. Wherever the Union Jack unfurls to the breeze the spirit of alert actions evokes the praise of those who do homage to its stars clustered upon its blue background. We are making history that for valor and permanency has no precedent, yet we record the illustrious deeds of our Revolutionary fathers with pride, and point back to a noble prestige. It would seem, since the mode of warfare has been so changed in the past decade, that there was no opportunity for exhibition of the valor of the individual; yet with all these modern appliances there has never been greater manifestations of establishing and defending national honor than has been shown within the past month.

The first on the altar of his country, for office, is Job Harriman, the nominee of the Socialist-Labor party for governor. He is a lawyer and resides in Los Angeles, but is now "on the stump" and will speak at Oakland tonight. Job's trials and afflictions will be many before he can sit in the state chair, but he has a wonderful example of patience and perseverance in the noted Job of old.

ALEX WEBSTER, whose work in the Berkeley High School was always characterized by ability and ingenuity, has joined the Volunteer Corps and expects to leave this city soon. He is a member of the Hospital Corps, and although not a graduate in therapeutics, he expects soon to become proficient in the administration of curative drugs and current remedies. His many friends will watch with interest his progress in his newly chosen work.

THE REV. ANNA SHAW, the famous exponent of the woman's suffrage movement, has just filed an answer to that constantly repeated, yet all absorbing question asked by the delicate men of the country: "Why should woman have a vote if she doesn't want to carry a musket?" It is as follows: "The women of the United States will fight all the women of Spain who come against us. We will take care of the women if the men will only take care of the men."

As it came to pass that after he had advertised his goods there came unto him great multitudes from all regions round about, and did buy of him. And when his competitors saw it they marvelled among themselves, saying: "How be it that this man is busy while we loaf idly about our doors?" And he spake unto them, saying: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, in this fast age of push and bustle it is easier for a camel to enter the eye of a needle than for a man to flourish without advertising."—Strayed or Stolen.

THE STATE W. C. T. U. CONVENTION.

It is expected that the State Convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held in Berkeley in October next. There are generally present about 150 delegates. Last year's gathering at Modesto was wonderfully impressive and interesting, and we shall hope to have that of the present year equally as good. The result of these conventions is permanently helpful and uplifting, and Berkeley people truly need a little stimulus in this direction. The number of so-called good people who are perfectly indifferent to this subject is simply amazing. Acknowledging the liquor traffic to be the greatest curse in the world, they simply do nothing. Frances T. Willard says: "I believe that in the simple change of personal attitude from passive to aggressive lies the only force that can free this land from the drink habit and the liquor traffic. If would be like dynamite under the saloon if, just where he is, the minister would begin active work against it; if, just where he is, the teacher would instruct his pupils; if, just where he is, the voter would dedicate his ballot to this movement, and so on through the shining ranks of the great powers that make for righteousness, if each were this day doing what each could, just where he is."
